A fantastic villa in Mijas Pueblo with lots of space for the family. This was originally a flour mill but has been completely changed into a living that is something different. If you are looking for a normal home you should stop reading now. The house consists on the entry level of a huge livingroom and dining room and a huge kitchen all in open plan. It gives a very luxurious feeling and from the left part of the house you have excellent views to the mediterranean sea. On the upper level you have 5 large bedroom with bathrooms ensuite. From the main bedroom there is stunning views down to the coast and all the rooms has vaulted roof. In the lower floor there is a huge living room, separate kitchen, an office and doors to the barbecue area. In the main house there is underfloor heating and hot/cold aircondition. Furthermore there is an extra apartment consisting of 2 bedrooms and 2 bathrooms. The poolarea is very cozy and a bit separated from the house, the plot is big enough and gives you the privacy you want. From the house there is walking distance into the Mijas Pueblo with all the cozy restaurants you find there. There is also a garage for 5 cars and a large parking area for several cars. Its a very different house that really give you the special feeling!
